

ARTICLE — CONSTRUCTION QUALITY (2005)

Building Magazine — GMV Acoustic/Noise Complaints (2005)

Source: <https://www.building.co.uk/news/if-our-neighbours-have-people-around-for-a-dinner-party-we-go-out/3050662.article>

Archived: 2 May 2026 | Part of: Greenwich Millennium Village Research Archive

SOURCE: <https://www.building.co.uk/news/if-our-neighbours-have-people-around-for-a-dinner-party-we-go-out>

-i-would-rather-sleep-on-a-friends-floor-for-the-night/3050662.article

TITLE: "If our neighbours have people around for a dinner party, we go out. I would rather sleep on a fri end's floor for the night."

PUBLICATION: Building Magazine, c.2005

NOTE: Direct fetch blocked (PERMISSIONS_ERROR); content referenced in GMV legal report as source for 2005

acoustic/noise complaints

REFERENCED CONTENT (from GMV Legal Report document):

This article is cited as evidence of early 2005 acoustic/noise transmission disputes at GMV. Residents in early blocks complained of inadequate sound insulation. The report notes this article specifically r eferred to Farnsworth Court as well as Kilby Court.

KEY FACTS (as summarised in GMV Legal & Dispute Map report):

- In 2005, residents in early GMV blocks complained about inadequate sound insulation / noise transmissio n

- The issue was not a court judgment but a clear early public record of construction quality complaints

- Farnsworth Court and Kilby Court specifically mentioned

CONTEXT from Wikipedia (confirmed):

"In 2005, some GMV residents complained that the noise insulation in the Kilby Court blocks was inadequat e."

NOTE: The URL for this article was not directly accessible; the headline quoted in the GMV report gives i ts substance clearly.